

A Concert to Benefit NCFO

*Musical Explorations of Messier Star Clusters and Nebulae:
An Astronomic Adventure for Solo Piano*

Composed and performed by
BRUCE LAZARUS

Composer/pianist Bruce Lazarus performs a selection of his solo piano pieces inspired by the deep-sky objects in the Messier Catalog. Bruce Lazarus is interested in science, particularly astronomy. He studied composition at Juilliard and earned his PhD in music theory at Rutgers University. Dr. Lazarus currently teaches at Marymount Manhattan College and is the Music Coordinator for Mark Morris Dance Group.

Thursday, April 29, 7:00 pm

New School of Music, 25 Lowell St, Cambridge, 02138

Concert will be followed by a reception

Tickets $20 (students/children $10)

Available at www.FamilyOpera.org and at the door

AND DON'T MISS THESE REMAINING CONCERTS!

Looking Up: Wonders of the Night Sky

Sat 5/1, 2:00, Broad Institute of MIT/Harvard, 415 Main St, Cambridge

Sat 5/2, 2:30, Peabody School, 70 Rindge Ave, Cambridge

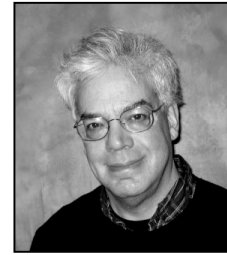

www.FamilyOpera.org

A Concert to Benefit NCFO

*Musical Explorations of Messier Star Clusters and Nebulae:
An Astronomic Adventure for Solo Piano*

Composed and performed by
BRUCE LAZARUS

Composer/pianist Bruce Lazarus performs a selection of his solo piano pieces inspired by the deep-sky objects in the Messier Catalog. Bruce Lazarus is interested in science, particularly astronomy. He studied composition at Juilliard and earned his PhD in music theory at Rutgers University. Dr. Lazarus currently teaches at Marymount Manhattan College and is the Music Coordinator for Mark Morris Dance Group.

Thursday, April 29, 7:00 pm

New School of Music, 25 Lowell St, Cambridge, 02138

Concert will be followed by a reception

Tickets $20 (students/children $10)

Available at www.FamilyOpera.org and at the door

AND DON'T MISS THESE REMAINING CONCERTS!

Looking Up: Wonders of the Night Sky

Sat 5/1, 2:00, Broad Institute of MIT/Harvard, 415 Main St, Cambridge

Sat 5/2, 2:30, Peabody School, 70 Rindge Ave, Cambridge

www.FamilyOpera.org