CASTING: Open to adults and children, age 7 and up, regardless of experience (under 10 requires a participating adult). Everyone MUST audition. Leading roles, cameos, and chorus roles are available. For a description of roles and ranges, please visit www.familyopera.org.

PREPARATION: See www.familyopera.org for PDFs of the vocal score and MP3s of the audio for lead role auditions. To participate in a small chorus, please prepare the harmony passages provided. For small roles or to sing in the main chorus, you may sing the harmony passages, but no prep is required.

In this sequel to NCFO Artistic Director David Bass's romantic opera The Coronation of Esther, Queen Esther risks her life to save her cousin Mordechai and the Jewish people from Haman, the vengeful Grand Vizier of Persia. Springtime for Haman is a sensitive and entertaining portrayal of this biblical story in two 50-minute acts and features lyrical music in a variety of popular and classical styles.

Performances: March 25, 26, April 1, 2, 2017
